

Join Veterans for EVs

Veterans for EVs is an initiative of the Electrification Coalition that serves as a rallying point for advocacy and action by U.S. military veterans in support of transportation electrification.

The U.S. military spends about $81 billion per year to protect oil infrastructure and oil transit routes from bad actors who do not share American values or interests. Transitioning to a transportation system powered by domestically produced electricity has the potential not only to reduce costs, but to bolster national security, minimize pollution, create American jobs, and lessen risk to our servicemembers.

Join Veterans for EVs to:

Network with other veterans

Provide expertise on issues related to oil dependence

Advocate for transportation electrification

Interested in learning more?

Sign up for Veterans for EVs updates, or contact EC Campaigns Director Aaron Viles at aaron@electrification.org

About the Electrification Coalition

The Electrification Coalition is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization that advances policies and actions to facilitate widespread deployment and adoption of electric vehicles in order to reduce the economic, public health and national security risks caused by America's dependence on oil. For more information, visit electrificationcoalition.org.